BEWARE OF LYME DISEASE!

Spring brings an increase in outdoor activities which mean an increased exposure to tick borne illnesses. Lyme is the most well-known of the diseases and most now know that it isn’t the larger dog ticks that carry Lyme, but the tiny deer ticks which aren’t much bigger than the period at the end of this sentence. Our Shenandoah Valley region is an endemic area for Lyme so it is important to know the symptoms of Lyme and how to protect yourself. Lyme can cause any or all of the following: fever, fatigue, headaches, joint pain, swollen glands and even irregular heart rhythms. If you experience any of these for more than a day or two, you should consider seeing a medical provider and include Lyme in the differential. Patients with Lyme may not get the Bullseye or 'erythema migrans' rash and some evidence indicates this rash occurs in only half of the Lyme cases.

There is controversy as to whether the Lyme Antibody Screen versus the Lyme Immunoblot blood test should be performed if Lyme is suspected. Many 'Lyme Literate' doctors advise the Immunoblot should be the test of choice. If you are seen by Urgent Care and told your Lyme antibody screen is negative, you should follow up with your primary care provider if you are not feeling better in 48 hours and consider the Lyme Immunoblot. Protecting yourself against tick borne illnesses is difficult, but worth attempting. Treat your clothing, including your shoes and socks, with Permethrin. You can purchase pretreated clothing from REI and L. L. Bean and the treatment lasts about 70 washes. You can also spray a Permethrin spray such as Sawyer on your clothing (including socks) before outings and be sure to spray your hiking boots, sneakers, etc. once a month at minimum. DEET is NOT effective against ticks. Wear light colored fabrics to help spot them more easily and wicking fabrics are the best because nymphal ticks need moisture to survive. Staying in sunny areas helps avoid ticks, and throwing your clothing into the dryer for 5 minutes on high heat when you’re done with your hiking or biking can kill them. Tick checks are helpful too, but you have to be extra vigilant because the nymphal ticks are so small. If you have a 4 legged companion, make sure they get their preventive tick therapy too!

REMEMBER, if you do not feel well, don't just keep waiting to get better, see your healthcare provider for an evaluation. Lyme treatment is more effective when started as soon as possible. Hopefully, with prevention and some vigilant tick checks, everyone can safely enjoy the beauty this area has to offer.
